The Music Center and the Partnership for Los Angeles Schools are delighted to partner for a forum that will explore innovative models for quality teaching and learning in arts education in the face of diminishing budget resources for schools and districts.

The forum will bring together school and district based administrators, teachers, coordinators, community advocates, parents, foundation members and others to consider how the arts can help our students achieve at higher levels, and maintain a vibrant and vital presence in school communities.

This unique program includes a panel session with leading arts educators and community representatives and break-out sessions focusing on relevant topics for audience engagement.

SPEAKERS AND BREAK-OUT FACILITATORS INCLUDE:

Sherri Williams, Principal, 99th Street Elementary School

Robin Lithgow, Administrative Coordinator, Arts Education Branch, LAUSD

Beth Peterson, Music Center Teaching Artist

Alexandra Navarro, Parent Leadership Representative, 10th District PTA/ LAUSD
